PUBLIC SOCIOLOGY

Sociological Images:

With Gwen Sharp, I am the founder of Sociological Images (thesocietypages.org/socimages). Designed to encourage the public to exercise and develop their sociological imagination, the site presents brief discussions of compelling and timely imagery that span the breadth of sociological inquiry. I was the site's principal author and editor between 2007 and 2017, during which the site was the most widely trafficked sociology blog on the web and routinely used as a source by and cross-posted at high profile news and opinion sites.

With an archive of over 5,000 posts, Sociological Images is also a teaching resource. It offers timely material for courses, short essays, images guides, and sample assignments. It has been reviewed favorably in Teaching Sociology and Visual Studies, featured in Teaching in Higher Education, and it has received awards from The American Sociological Association, The Pacific Sociological Association, the American Sociological Association section on Communication and Information Technologies, Contexts magazine, the University of Minnesota Department of Sociology, the Mellon Foundation, and the Multimedia Educational Resource for Learning and Online Teaching.
